ADP re-imagined

Protection Coverage is a Must-have.

The use of technology in K-12 education has reached an all-time high, with personal devices becoming an integral part of the daily learning experience. However, most ADP options on the market lack clarity regarding the incidents they cover and the experience they provide.

Over the past few years, we've come to understand the need for K-12 protection coverage first-hand. So, we set out to create a protection solution complete with K-12-specific coverage options, customizable program features, and diverse service offerings.

—Introducing Flex 360.

What is Flex 360?

Flex 360 is a customizable protection solution designed for Edtech program sustainability. We provide comprehensive protection while maximizing the value of your device investments.

Flex 360 goes beyond device coverage, offering personalized service, extensive support, and valuable data analytics to ensure the long-term sustainability of your EdTech program.
